ABOUT US

Stonevary is all about passion and dedication. Stonevary is a family business starting with an aggregated stone mining since 1950s. Currently, we are the owner of four quarries; one granite, two marble and a limestone. As our procreators expanded to several other mining such as marble, travertine, limestone, slate and granite quarries until today. As we decided that us and several other quarries in Turkey that should start a new company that should focus on the other markets in order to provide more affordable materials by directly you from our quarries. The experiences that we gained over the years that pushed us to import our materials all over the world.

Stonevary is dedicated to fill the gap between industry needs and what suppliers were offering. There were so many quarries with different colors and designs has been kept locally, and it had to be introduced all around the world. Since then, we have been growing in both size and reputation at an astonishing rate. We lead the way in customer care and satisfaction, and we strive to provide the very best service to everyone we work with.
